

Information about auditors

At the 2003 Annual General Meeting, the registered auditing firms KPMG Bohlins AB, with chief auditor Carl Lindgren, and Ernst & Young AB, with chief auditor Jan Birgeron, were appointed auditors for the period up to the end of the Annual General Meeting in 2007.

The task of the auditors is to audit the company's annual accounts, the accounting records and the administration of the board and the president, on behalf of the shareholders.

During the past few years, the auditing firms have had a limited number of other assignments from Investor in addition to auditing work. These assignments have mainly involved in-depth reviews and special audits.

When providing information about fees and expenses for auditors, the classification of auditing assignments and other assignments (see below) has been applied in accordance with the guidance of the Swedish Institute of Authorized Public Accountants (FAR) "About annual accounting of stock corporations".

"Audit assignment is defined as the audit of the annual report, the accounts, the administration of the board of directors and the president, and other tasks, which rest upon the auditor, as well as consulting and other assistance which have been initiated by the findings in performing the audit work or implementation of such tasks. All other work is referred to as other assignments."
